DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of group II in the reply filed on 4/11/06 is acknowledged.

Claims 18-28 are pending.

Claim Objections

Claim 23 is objected to because of the following informalities: at line 3, "a integrated circuit" appears to be a typographical error of "an integrated circuit". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Herbst, II (US 5,457,342). Herbst discloses (figure 4) a system comprising a heat storage medium (heat spreader 12); an integrated circuit such as a CPU (13) coupled to the storage medium (12); a heat sink (24) coupled with the IC (13), the heat sink comprising a thermoelectric (18) module having a polarity; and a thermal interface material (32) coupled with the heat sink and the IC device. Herbst does not explicitly disclose how the thermoelectric works but Herbs has incorporated reference Richman (4,685,081) to disclose the principles of a peltier effect cooling module (thermoelectric). The reference to Richman discloses (column 4, lines 6-13) that the thermoelectric (30) is capable of reversing the direction of current flowing through the thermoelectric (reversing the polarity) to heat or chill the device (21) to maintain the device within its recommended temperature range. Regarding claims 20 and 25, the method of forming "the TIM is applied at and removed from... an epoxy dispenser machine and a vacuum suction cup" are not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. "Even though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985). In this instant case, the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from the product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the TIM was applied by a different process.

Application/Control Number: 10/608,634

Art Unit: 3753

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Chrysler et al. (US 2004/0118129A1) discloses a thermoelectric cooling for microelectronic packages and dice.

Hughes et al. (US 6,412,287) discloses a heated/cooled console storage unit and method.

Peters (US 4,848,090) discloses an apparatus for controlling the temperature of an integrated circuit package.

Devenyi et al. (US 4,389,557) discloses a semiconductor laser bonding technique.

Application/Control Number: 10/608,634

Chen (US 6,798,659) discloses a CPU cooling structure.

Ju (US 5,655,375) discloses an antenna mountable thermoelectric.
